Image Recommendations for Production

If you want to replace the placeholder images with real photographs, here are the recommended sources:

1. Free Stock Photo Resources

- Unsplash (unsplash.com): High-quality, royalty-free coffee and lifestyle photography
- Pexels (pexels.com): Free stock photos of coffee beans, roasting, and cafe scenes
- Burst (burst.shopify.com): Shopify's free image library with coffee-related images

2. Specific Image Suggestions

- Hero Image: A close-up of coffee beans or a barista pouring latte art
- About Page: Coffee farm or roasting process photography
- Product Images: High-quality photos of each coffee bean variety (Yirgacheffe, Lake Kivu, etc.)
- Workshop Page: Images of brewing equipment or cupping sessions
- Blog Page: Photos related to brewing techniques or coffee sourcing

3. Image Implementation

To replace the SVG placeholders with real images:

css

```
/* Before */
.hero-image {
  background-image: url('data:image/svg+xml;utf8,...');

/* After */
.hero-image {
  background-image: url('images/hero-coffee.jpg');
  background-size: cover;
  background-position: center;
}
```

4. Alt Text for Accessibility

All images in the code include `alt` text for accessibility, as required by the proposal:

html
```

```

```

Color Palette for Visual Assets

When selecting images, consider the brand's color palette:

- Primary: Espresso Brown #3C2415
- Secondary: Cream #F5F1E8 (background)
- Accent 1: Sage Green #8A9A8F (sustainability)
- Accent 2: Terracotta #D97941 (CTA buttons)

Images with warm, earthy tones and natural textures will align best with the brand's "warm, minimal, organic, handcrafted" aesthetic.
